"You'll Never [Ever] Walk Alone!"

One of the great things about football is that at its best it's unpredictable. The way the Premier League has opened up at the top since Alex Ferguson retired has surely made for a more exciting competition (unless you're a Man U. supporter of course!)

Life is sometimes compared to football (politicians scoring an own goal for instance. After all Bill Shankly said "Some people believe football is a matter of life and death – it's much much more important than that!") Life is often unpredictable – the collapse of banks, last winter's weather, the Arab Spring, Ukraine – almost coinciding with the Winter Olympics.

Some people think Christian faith gives certainty in life, even if they haven't tried it for themselves. A colleague of mine once said, "I think I'm certain of fewer things than when I came to faith many years ago, but I believe them much more passionately now – they are part of me. " Someone I visited who was dying said to me, " I know I'll be with Jesus" (perhaps thinking of Jesus's words to the thief on the cross next to him.) But that assurance didn't take away the pain, or the fear, or the repeated disappointments, or the regret at what would be missed in this life. Nevertheless, there was the assurance that love, peace and joy do last for ever, and that anything we've been able to do in the cause of justice on this earth won't have been wasted.

"How can you be so certain?" people sometimes say . Christian faith is not a provable certainty, like in science or maths (though there are strong arguments for Christian beliefs.) It's more a personal assurance – personal because it comes from trust in a person – Jesus of Nazareth. Occasionally people say, " I wish I had your faith." Faith isn't a matter of being religious by temperament, or of being churchy. It doesn't make life predictable. We still mess up, have anxieties, face disappointments. But (to return to the football analogy), you know "you'll never [ever] walk alone!"

Make Time, For 'Pilgrimage and Journeying' at The Suffolk Show 28-29th May 2014

During May half-term Trinity Park is transformed by agricultural, horticultural and craft displays, marquees housing the best of flowers & vegetables (not to mention the people!) a funfair, horse-jumping and all sorts of arena events, together making simply the unique Suffolk Show.

Amongst all the attractions this year don't miss the Church of England marquee housing, as it always does, a range of activities, refreshment and entertainment for children and adults alike.

Local flavour is added, as Wendy is one of three 'artistic Curates' who have been commissioned to produce a mural on the theme of the Diocesan Centenary – Pilgrims in Time. Extending over twelve metres in length it imaginatively depicts the influence of four key East Anglian saints – Edmund, Felix, Botolph and Ethelraeda. Visitors to the marquee are also invited to contribute to the design and execution of an altar frontal for the Cathedral.

Wendy will be there on both days - 28th, 29th May - so do pop in and see her.

MESSAGE FROM CLARE AS RECTOR

It was a great delight to welcome Doris Main, Jenny Taylor, Jane Hilliar, Jane Woods and Richard Pepper as Elders on March 30th.

Jane W and Richard are also exploring Reader ministry and if selected for training by the diocese will serve as Elders for a year, as part of their Reader training.

Our AGMs held during April have made us all aware that all of us are called to live out our faith in different ways – we cannot be a Church- the Body of Christ- unless we all give of the gifts that God has entrusted to us – so I thank God for all of you in your witnessing of your faith in daily life, and especially with those who have the gifts of administration, care of finance, buildings and churchyards, and those who share in the pastoral and liturgical ministry of our churches- thank you.

Clare
