News for the parishes of the Carlford Benefice

Communicate!

Yes, that has been addressed to me, more than once, and many's the time when, although I did try to communicate something to someone, the message was not received as I intended. I also know that poor listening on my part has meant that I have often not received an intended message. "There has been a breakdown in communication" may be a commonly-heard excuse, but when it comes to the Gospel, we should never shelter behind it, either as we try to share it with others or receive it from God.

You will see reference elsewhere to a meeting of the "Communications Group" on Feb. 12th. We have been thinking about how best to use The Grapevine and the different magazines circulating in our eight villages to best effect. When we next meet, we shall consider other ways of disseminating information – websites, group emails, Facebook, Twitter and other modern methods that some folk may read more. (Fortunately some of the group understand these things better than I).

Of course, any discussion must include thinking about whom each message is intended for. Different information needs to reach different people and the best method for one may not be the same for another. Getting it right becomes harder as choices widen and information-overload increases. Data protection, privacy, and duplication all complicate the subject.

God has never been constrained in his communicating with us. Think of the written word of the Bible – law, poetry, narrative, lament, prophecy, teaching, letters, visions are all included. Think beyond the written word – God reveals himself in creation, in history, in people and in ways that often take us completely by surprise. The Word, with a capital W, in the person of Jesus, has no limits. Nor are there any limits on how we may communicate with God – "Pray continually with all kinds of prayers" wrote Paul to the Ephesians.

The benefice has a ministry team (clergy and readers), but theirs is not the sole responsibility for ministry any more than communication is the sole responsibility of the communications group. As God's people, we are all called to proclaim the Gospel, the good news of the love of God, among those with whom we live and work – as St. Francis of Assisi reputedly said, "Use words if you have to." Equally, we must all be open to receive that love, however God communicates it to us. Communicate!

MESSAGE FROM CLARE AS RECTOR

GIVING GENEROUSLY IN GRACE

Each of our churches has a budget unique to them for the year ahead- covering costs of maintaining and heating the building, insurance, and the cost of ministry and mission. Each of our churches contributes to a central fund which is paid to the diocese "Parish Share", this covers the stipends and housing costs of clergy and their inservice training and the costs of training for future ministry – Elders-Readers and Priests.

Our Carlford Parish Share is £65,000- in addition we have committed ourselves to giving an additional £25,000 to assist those parishes who are unable to raise their full amount of Parish Share.
This makes a total of £90,000 for us in the Carlford Benefice- which is a reduction from our previous share of £101,000.

Thank you for all that you do and give to ensure that the ministry and mission of our Church is as lively and as caring as it can be.

Clare
