“Inspired to Inspire”

‘ I hope some of us will use 9th September to visit churches open for Suffolk Historic Churches Trust's annual "Ride and Stride". Throughout the years I have taken part, I have always come back feeling inspired, whether by the church buildings themselves, or by those who have welcomed me. Stained glass doing stunning things with light; cheery ladies serving tea and cake; corners; churchwardens tackling a leaking roof; smells of harvest decorations; flower-arrangers working with nature; medieval carvings; young people making music; the peace of an empty church in the fields; the happy chatter of a children's activity club make your own lists.

Such encounters away from home make me realise how much I overlook what is going on here in Carlford. Just look in your own church for its own particular "angels" or points of inspiration; don't overlook its sermons in stone. Look in Grapevine for evidence of God at work in his people regardless of collar or label. Be inspired by what and who we have and are here, however familiar, ordinary and taken for granted they may seem.

There are churches where major building projects have been successfully completed or where they are exciting increases in congregations, but behind all the stories there will always be a number of unassuming individuals working patiently at ordinary things like making tea, filling in forms or putting out chairs. They too are both inspired and inspiring.

Tearfund runs a programme that supports "Inspired Individuals". One such is Christophe Mbonyingabo, an orphan of the Rwanda genocide. As he looked around his community, Christophe saw that forgiveness was desperately needed if the people of Rwanda were ever going to move on from the pain of the past. This led him to start Christian Action for Reconciliation and Social Assistance (CARSA) – a programme that brings together survivors and offenders from the genocide in pursuit of forgiveness.

‘We provide a cow, which is shared by a perpetrator and a victim. They take care of the cow together, and this becomes a bridge that allows them to meet on a regular basis and continue their journey of forgiveness. When the cow has a calf, victim and perpetrator share the milk. And when the calf has grown, the survivor gives this calf to the offender as a sign of true forgiveness.’

Damien and Leonard attended a CARSA workshop. Before the workshop they hated each other. Leonard had killed members of Damien's family in the massacres. ‘It would have been better to flee the country than to meet him eye to eye,’ says Damien. Nonetheless, during the workshop Leonard asked for forgiveness and Damien gave it – a genuine and powerful transaction, but only the beginning. They became good friends and their example now inspires others to learn and practise forgiveness.

Yes, it's a long way from here and yes, the need for healing and reconciliation manifests itself differently in Carlford, but that doesn't make us any less able to play our part. God works through cows and people like Christophe in Rwanda; so He does in Carlford, often in the things and through the inspired and inspiring people we take most for granted.

Letter from the Rector.....

September is a month for new beginnings – new school year; going off to college and university. For us in the Carlford Benefice, it is a new beginning too, with a newly shaped ministry team – newly shaped, because we will be more lay focussed and more men than women- so we are in for an exciting time!

For some churches, it will mean the introduction of an Extended Communion Service – the bread and wine being consecrated at the 8.00am service and then brought to your church, by one of our Readers, who will lead you in that service and enable you to share in the bread and wine of communion; for some in the benefice this has become familiar practice for others of us, it will be a new experience.

We are richly blessed in those offering themselves in ministry across the benefice- in addition to James, Bill, Mark and Jane -our Readers; we have 6 Elders – Dot and Molly in Hasketon; Linda and Jan in Ashbocking; Jenny Taylor in Grundisburgh and Doris in Clopton. The ministry of Elders is rich and varied for some it will involve visiting people in their homes and on occasion, taking communion to them; for others, their ministry is in leading services on a Sunday morning. Elders and Readers are a local point of contact for you and share with me pastoral care across our 8 villages.

But the team doesn't stop there, we all have a role to play, for all of us are called, we could not manage without Churchwardens, Treasurers, PCC Secretaries, people who clean, prepare for services, look after churchyards, help with Messy Church, and work with children, lunch clubs, coffee mornings, house groups... the list goes on.

We are all members of the Body of Christ- each of uniquely gifted, may we use those God given gifts to serve others, in his name.

Rev'd Clare Sanders

Visit unique historic buildings, see beautiful countryside, get some exercise and have fun with the family!

Saturday 9th September 9.00am to 5.00pm

Ride+Stride is a sponsored bike ride or walk in which people all over England walk or cycle between churches, exploring and enjoying the countryside. The money they raise helps to save historic churches, chapels and meeting houses for future generations by helping to fund urgent repairs and the installation of modern facilities. The idea is to visit as many places of worship as possible open near you and also get sponsored for visiting them. In 2015 Ride+Stride raised almost £1.5 million for churches.

The sponsorship money you raise is shared 50/50 between a county church trust that helps historic churches and the individual church of your choice.

Contact your local church taking part in Ride+Stride or your county church trust and they'll provide you with a form to collect pledges from sponsors on which you can indicate the church that you'd like to receive half of the money you raise.

On the day of the event all the participating churches are open from morning to late afternoon. Cycling is the most popular way of travelling from church to church, but you can walk, run or use public transport or even go by car – whatever you feel most comfortable doing.
